You know those "essential" items you couldn't imagine life without when you have your new baby?... well for me, the Zoe Sage Mama Cover has definitely been one of them!

My little girl Georgia is now one month old and my Mama Cover comes out with us every outing, every day. I have to admit, I was unsure how much I would use and/or need it after making do with blankets and wraps with my first born BUT this has made life SO much easier for me.

The Mama Covers design has been so carefully thought out, the material is super stretchy and will fit over almost anything and the hole at the top is perfectly placed for breastfeeding and for over the pram/capsule. It has been so much easier than contending with the pram clips, a muslin wrap or clunky cover which I was used to. Pictures below of me using the cover to date.

Suitable for use in the 5 different ways (breastfeeding cover, car capsule cover, trolley cover, high chair cover and an infinity scarf for mama)
